Foreword

So that in the years to come we may turn these pages, live once more the carefree days of our lives, and see again the faces we once knew; so that our troubles and our joys, our deeds and our lives in the space of "TIME" shall not be lost forever in obscurity, we, the class of Nineteen Hundred Fifty Seven, offer you this "SHAWNEE" as a pleasant and lasting memory of ourselves and classmates.

If by doing this we can keep our high school days forever near us, and the memories of them alive in our hearts, we shall know that our humble efforts have not been unrequited. If we can enable ourselves to carry with us through life the spirit of our NCHS years, the spirit of youth, of perseverance, and the happiness, we shall know the pleasure of a task well done.

NEW CUMBERLAND HIGH SCHOOL . . has undergone important changes since its construction in 1928 to provide vital facilities for a growing curriculum and student body. To the original building, with its twelve classrooms surrounding the gymnasium, were added a music room, office wing, northwest classrooms, and a band room between 1935 and 1948. The 1956 building program remodeled older parts of the school plant and supplied eleven new classrooms, a cafeteria, home economics suite, a nurse's quarters. Although the expansion program has filled the school site with a huge rambling building, classroom needs fall far behind because of yearly enrollment increases. While legal technicalities and court procedures still delay construction of the West Shore Joint High School, "operation squeeze" becomes more difficult each year.

Dedication

To a coach whose wise counsel on good sportsmanship is mirrored in the attitudes of Tiger teams; to a teacher whose brisk training in clean living is carried into daily student activities; to a man whose keen judgement is esteemed by antagonist or friend; to a friend whose genuine understanding is appreciated by all who seek his aid; to our choice of the year, COACH RUSSELL POOLE, we dedicate the 1957 SHAWNEE.

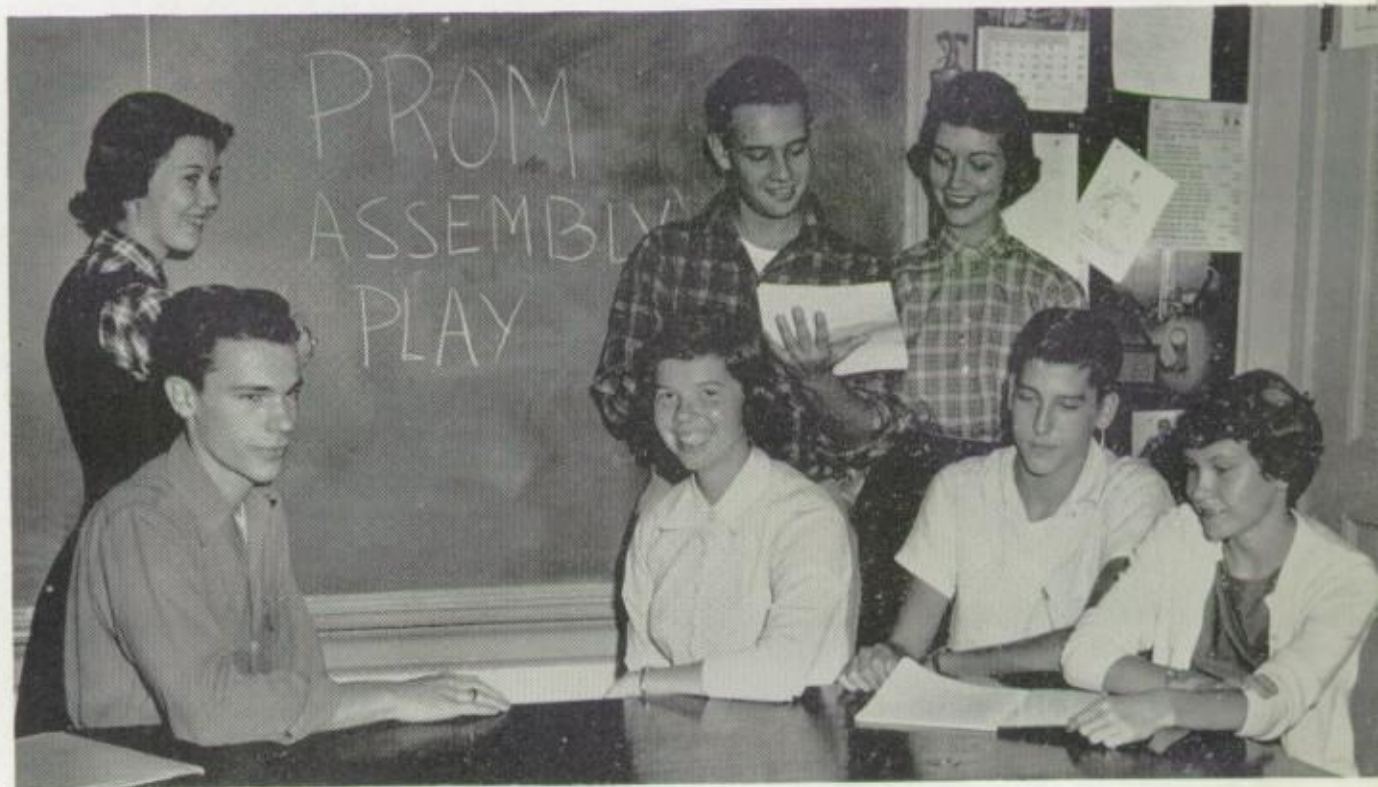

COMPLICATED EQUIPMENT . . . goes into operation as engineers complete the new public address system. AT LEFT, Mr. S. P. Bomgardner explains to office secretaries Gloria Wilt and Kathleen Earles how to set switches and volume for daily announcements. Mr. John Johnson, assistant principal, gives his aid to the "trial run". ● LIBRARY HELPERS . . . BELOW RIGHT, Linda Taylor and Barbara Blessing inspect a new book as they find a place for it on the shelves. They are both members of the library club and spend a lot of time keeping the books in good repair.

CUSTODIANS . . . "Willing workers from dawn to dusk" suitably describes New Cumberland High's maintenance men. AT RIGHT, LEFT TO RIGHT ARE: Mr. John Hutton, Mr. Arthur Conner, Mr. Isaac Kline, Sr. and Mr. Isaac Kline, Jr. Mr. Hutton helps students dispose of paper and stacks dishes in the cafeteria. Mr. Conner presides over Seventh Street's boiler room, while the Klines keep the high school spic and span. ● OFFICE WORK . . . BELOW, M. Charles Gemmill, Associate Superintendent, explains some typing he wants done to his secretary, Mrs. Marjorie Walters. Recently new administrative problems have been created by an expanding school system. Aside from these problems, much of Mr. Gemmill's time is spent with his representation of the high school to the school board.

HELPING HANDS . . . The stage crew, among other activities, is in charge of the audio and visual aids used in classes. ABOVE RIGHT, operators Clark Donley, Joe James and Lee Croke demonstrate the slide projector, tape recorder and movie projector, three of our most useful educational aids. ● INDUCTION SERVICES . . . AT RIGHT, ten juniors smilingly take the oath of the National Honor Society given by Lee Croke, president. Membership requires a high scholastic attainment. LEFT TO RIGHT ARE: Carleton Garrett, Judy Robertson, Clark Donley, Mary Gladfelter, Diane Bowles, Lee, Jerry Brackbill, Doris Meas, Nancy Handshaw, Tom Burkhardt and William Claar.

Administration

JOINT SCHOOL COMMITTEE . . . which operates 7 through 12 grades is comprised of a majority of each individual school board from New Cumberland, Fairview Township, and Lewisberry. LEFT TO RIGHT, SEATED ARE: Mr. Charles F. Warren, Goldsboro; Mr. Frank Kerlin, treasurer; New Cumberland; Mrs. Elsie Wise, Lewisberry; Mr. Paul Gayer, president, New Cumberland; Mrs. Geraldine Cook, Lewisberry; Rev. D. F. Mowrey, secretary; New Cumberland; Mr. Charles W. Gemmill, associate superintendent. STANDING, LEFT TO RIGHT: Wayne Beshore, Fairview Township; Mr. Newton Bair, Fairview Township; Nicholas Justh, Lewisberry; Mr. Wayne Moody, Goldsboro; Mr. Miles Brubaker, Goldsboro; Mr. Norman Basehore, New Cumberland; Mr. Russel Updegraff, attorney.

MR. CHARLES GEMMILL
Associate Superintendent

COMMANDER IN CHIEF . . . skillfully directs the school in the New Cumberland Joint School System. Through all his years of toil, loyal service and multitudinous tasks, he has striven to give the school the best staff and facilities possible. His farsighted administration has instituted many familiar phases of curricular and extracurricular activities.

MR. S. P. BOMGARDNER
Principal

A WORTHY EXAMPLE . . . since 1925, Mr. Bomgardner has devoted considerable time to curriculum and student schedules. His duties were made more complicated with the increasing student body. The completion of the new wing furnished additional problems with the moving of the 8th grade into the building.

MR. JOHN JOHNSON
Assistant Principal

GUIDANCE DIRECTOR . . . Mr. Johnson finds his hours filled with student attendance and disciplinary problems. As guidance instructor he interviews all seniors and coordinates the testing program for job placement as well as college entrance. As adviser to the student council he directs student government.

MR. DAVIED ROBERTSON
Elementary Principal

AMIALE SUPERVISOR . . . pilots the faculty and pupils of three separate elementary schools in New Cumberland. This busy schedule means frequent visits to all classrooms and supervision of 43 teachers. The growing population of New Cumberland necessitates construction of a new elementary building to house more than 800 pupils now under his supervision.

ROW THREE: Barry Seip, Lois Sheaffer, Udine Steigerwalt, Mardee Stouffer. ROW FOUR: Jean Trout, Ronald Whitcomb, Jacquelyn White.

DILIGENT LEADERS enthusiasm and responsibility for all senior projects is the main activity of the senior class officers. The clever ingenuity of Samuel Brinton, president; Barry Seip, vice-president; Ruth Diehl, secretary and Udine Steigerwalt, treasurer, was evident in the senior assembly, "Monitor", and the senior play, "Mother was a Freshman." The intrigue of fallen leaves was of interest for the senior party, "Autumn Leaves". Off to the big city, seniors took in a whirlwind of sight-seeing on the class trip to New York city. A class worthy of following prepared an eventful class day program for the entire school, June 4.

LENDING A HELPING hand to the senior class for innumerable activities are these class advisers. Always there when needed, these teachers often gave up their valuable time to work out problems and advise students. LEFT TO RIGHT - Mr. Earl Follett, Mrs. Eleanor Stanton, Dr. John Smeltz and Mr. Roy Sutton.

ENERGETIC CLASS OFFICERS . . . gather on the steps to talk over numerous plans for a variety of activities. AT LEFT, Linda Wise, president; Gretchen Wright, vice-president; Paul T. Burkhart, treasurer and Patricia Miller, secretary, discuss the unusual decorations for Circus Capers, the junior class party January 12. Another hit of the year was the junior class assembly, Showboat on March 22 with John Gicking as pilot and emcee. Elaborate costumes, musical variety, dance routines provided tops in student entertainment. Add their play, The Perfect Idiot, April 12, and their triumph in the magazine campaign, as examples of worthwhile accomplishments through cooperation and harmony.

AMBITIOUS OFFICERS . . . meeting to discuss plans for the sophomore class trip are, PICTURED RIGHT: Jan Ludwig, class president; Linda Harlackner, secretary-treasurer; Larry Simpson, vice-president. Their class trip, November 12 to Philadelphia, was climaxed by a stop-over at Valley Forge. Socially, this eager and large class was at its peak February 23 in the presentation of "Stardust", their annual class party. The class assembly in March gave talented students an opportunity to challenge their upper-class rivals in assembly entertainment.

ENTHUSIASTIC CHIEFS . . prepare a busy spring schedule for their classmates. Of greatest importance was the Variety Show presented as a Jr. High Assembly program. In the spotlight were such attractions as Penny Christian, tap dancer; The Four Freshmen, harmony de luxe; and Dusty Chapman alias Elvis Presley. The Saint Patrick theme with its green and pipes and shamrocks added to the class party on March 16, open to freshmen only. The long awaited event of the year, the trip to Washington, saw six bus loads of eager, buzzing frosh swarm over Smithsonian Institute and the Capitol. PICTURED LEFT ARE, Linda Bonner, secretary-treasurer; Mark Smith, President; Fred Eppley, Vice-president.

JUNIOR EXECUTIVES . . . get their first taste of the busy school life in a large building. With approximately 250 more students to work into an already crowded gym program, their intramural basketball games were played in the Methodist Church gym. In the spelling bee, arranged for Junior High contestants, classmates cheered Dave Lawley, the winner. Another top talent proclaimed by all is Kenneth Bowen, pianist extraordinary, winner of the all school Talent show, and soloist on a Youth Symphony Concert. A big event of the year was the class trip to Gettysburg with its historic tours and sights. AT LEFT, class officers pause on their way from the cafeteria. School Life

UNO, DOS, TRES . . . spell Latin class members as they prepare for a big test. The entire second year is devoted to Caesar's Gallic Wars. It gives students a better insight into Caesar's military genius and Gallic customs as he knew them. Caesar's day by day account not only made him famous but clearly describes this phase of Roman life. AT RIGHT, Vance Stouffer, Marjorie Treder, Wilma Batdorf and James Lamont.

CIVIC PROBLEMS . . . hold the interest of a Senior English panel preparing to summarize their material. The panel, one of the many during the school year, discussed the need of a teenage center in New Cumberland. Other topics were "Resolved there should be a world confederation", "How concerned about the welfare of others, both at home and abroad, should a good citizen be", "Are flying saucers real", and "Cavaliers vs. Puritans". AT RIGHT, Adrian Stetler, Pat Bonner, Sam Briton, George Porter. and Jackie Bibbins.

that try men's souls

COLLEGE READING LISTS . . . are an obstacle to some but not to these students. The Merchant of Venice, becomes of lasting interest with records done by Orson Welles correlated with the students books. AT RIGHT choosing books from Mrs. Weaver's library are LEFT: Larry Rudy, Dawn Marshall, Pat Pace and Dennis Yinger.

A. E. I. O. U. . . . grammar is the main point of interest to these senior English students as they take notes on the lecture. Correct sentence structure and grammar usage will enable these seniors to compete with others in the field of business. AT LEFT are Joan Miller, Sarah Spoonhour, James Weakley, Leonard Conley.

CHRISTMAS AROUND THE WORLD . . preparing outlines on which to base the yuletide topics, students go over references in the library. The speaking contest, sponsored by the Toast-masters Club creates new enthusiasm for the students in learning the customs and traditions of our neighbors around the globe. Shown at left are Elaine Dorwart,

Time is the life of the Soul

MIDDLE EAST PROBLEMS . . interest these three world geography students Stanley Diebler, Ronald McCreary and Thomas James SHOWN AT RIGHT. Here students are learning about the chief products and vital resources, the importance of nations large and small located in today's most problematic area. ● STUDENT COMMITTEE . . plans work and individual reports on early 20th century leaders for American history class. BELOW LEFT, chairman Kay Spangler discusses assigned projects with Lester Wheeler, Henrietta Turban, and Mike Steger.

Prevent waste of Time

DRIVER TRAINING . . . Promotes safety and careful driving in high school drivers. Students study the state traffic code and functions of the modern automobile, and use various instruments in class to test their aptitude for driving. AT UPPER LEFT: Suzanne Weigle, Sandra Hain, Ronald Miller, Joe Keating and Mr. Edwards, instructor. ● GETTING THE FACTS . . . Mardee Stouffer greets vice-president Richard M. Nixon, BELOW LEFT, during his whistle-stop tour at the packed Hershey sports arena. After his speech, which ended the 1956 presidential campaign, this "Times" co-editor managed to snatch an interview and a picture as proof of her unforgettable experience.

CIVICS . . . Freshmen study organization of Federal system of government and types of local government in Pennsylvania. Their big project is on their own community, including a map and history. ABOVE: Penny Sandburg, Fred Hooper, Kirk Richey, Barbara Sheaffer. ● WORLD HISTORY . . . students trace development of man from earliest civilization to modern times and study world developments at present through weekly charts and magazines. AT LEFT: Barry Simmons, Stephen Shaffer, Colleen Donley, Kathryn Inscoe.

Time wasted is existence

UNLIMITED ENERGY . . . is exhibited by these shop students as they learn and practice the "P's" and "Q's" of carpentry. By the end of the school term, these boys have created many useful and attractive articles. AT LEFT, working on their projects are Donald Lubic, Marlin Linn, John Mickey, Steve Andrews, Glenn Geissinger, Douglas Spoonhour, and Ronald Pierce.

IT'S BAKING TIME . . AT RIGHT, as cherry pie queen contestants pause for a moment before placing their pies in the oven. The contest is open to all high school students who wish to enter. LEFT TO RIGHT ARE: Eater B., Lengenman S., Gruver W., Warren D., Fogle N., Bachman S., Lehmer B., Schrack S., Shewell S. ● CHERRY PIE QUEEN . . Suzanne Bachman, BELOW, proudly presents her prize winning pie as she was crowned NC's Cherry Pie Queen of 1957.

More than Time enough

He who gains Time gains everything

GHOSTLY CHARACTERS . . . bands and colorful floats appeared in the spotlight for one night as 12,000 New Cumberlandites viewed the Halloween parade. A dance, sponsored by the Community Service Organization, was climaxed by the crowning of the Halloween Queen. AT RIGHT is Queen Barbara Blessing and her escort, Barry Schwartz.

I think upon the happy Time so fondly loved

LITTLE MAN . . . with a destination (the end of the parade route) appears BELOW on one of the parade's many floats.

Rich with the spoils of time

HIGHLIGHTING . . . the winter season at NC is the White Christmas Formal sponsored by the 21 club. Enchanted couples danced to the dreamy music of Fred Harry in a white paradise. Wondering just how close heaven can be, the happy couples reached out to touch the celestial figures as they encircle the dance floor.

EVERBODY'S SWEETHEARTS are these four sweetheart candidates, Connie Hench, Sallan Lawley, Mardee Altland and Janice Fetrow.

AND THEIR PRINCES gallant enough to capture any girl's heart, William Schrack, Vance Rudy, Larry McCreary and Mark Smith.

On the sands of Time

SWEETHEART SWING sponsored by the "TIMES" staff helps raise funds for the newspaper. Each class elects a boy and girl as their candidates. The candidates' pictures are displayed on a poster and students vote for their choices by putting money in the slots under the pictures. AT LEFT the king and queen, Larry McCreary, sophomore, and Mardee Altland, junior, lead the royal procession into the auditorium.

QUEEN MARDEE flashes a radiant smile at King Larry as Miss Blanche Slaybaugh crowns them King and Queen of Hearts.

"SPICE AND VARIETY" . . . play cast roles poses for a curtain call. The comedy headed by Ruth Diehl and Lee Croke and involving typical teenagers in a typical situation was written and directed by Mr. Melvin Checkum, a member of the faculty.

OUTSTANDING JOURNALIST . . . Ken Nerrie receives an award for his superior article from Raymond Johns while Ronald Speese and Phil DeBoard look on admiringly.

"HOWDY PARDNER" . . . exclaims Lee Croke as he comes upon Barry Schwartz, junior cowboy, in a comedy scene from "Spice and Variety."

"COKE TIME" . . . shouts Barry Schwartz as he offers reporter Ken Nerrie pretzels while Lee Croke and Ruth Diehl talk of the coming dance.

To choose Time is to save Time

COMEDY HIT . . "MOTHER IS A FRESHMAN" produced by the senior class on November 8 and 9th . . directed by A. Naomi Peters . . fun and laughter when mother attends college with her teenage daughter. Top-notch performances from leads and supporting actors . . Carol Christian at her terrific best as Abigail . . Sam Brinton, a shouting "Gilly" . . Patti Herr, a show-stopper in red evening gown . . James Lamont, a popular prof . . Bill Schrack, a proud and handsome Bobo. ● SURROUNDED . . by college men who fight for the attention of a "middle-age" woman. AT RIGHT, SEATED ARE Adrian Stetler, Carol Christian, Abigail Abbott; William Schrack, Bobo. STANDING: Jack Kohn, Howie; Lee Croke.

Football Summary

HARRISBURG CATHOLIC . . the underdog Tigers surprised everyone in the season's opener with an excellent showing and took a 6-0 lead. The Crusaders scored in the last few seconds however, to pull out a 12-6 heartbreaker.

SUSQUEHANNA TOWNSHIP . . the Bengals got into the win column on their own gridiron after a week's lay-off. After a 7-7 halftime score, a third period TD clinched the 14-7 victory.

CUMBERLAND VALLEY . . again the NC eleven racked up 14 points to take home their bacon. Touchdowns in each half proved to be enough as the excellent defense kept the Eagles scoreless.

BOILING SPRINGS . . nothing went right for the Tiger squad on this rainy afternoon. Long touchdown runs by the Bubblers rolled up 25 points as NC was held scoreless.

SHIPPENSBURG . . the Bengles bounced back to win with three touchdowns. The defense bogged down however, as the Greyhounds fought back for two scores and almost tied it up.

MECHANICSBURG . . the Tigers were the first team to lead the Wildcats at any time up to that game. Taking a 7-0 lead, and again a 13-7 lead, the second half proved to be the downfall as Mechanicsburg went home with a 33-13 victory.

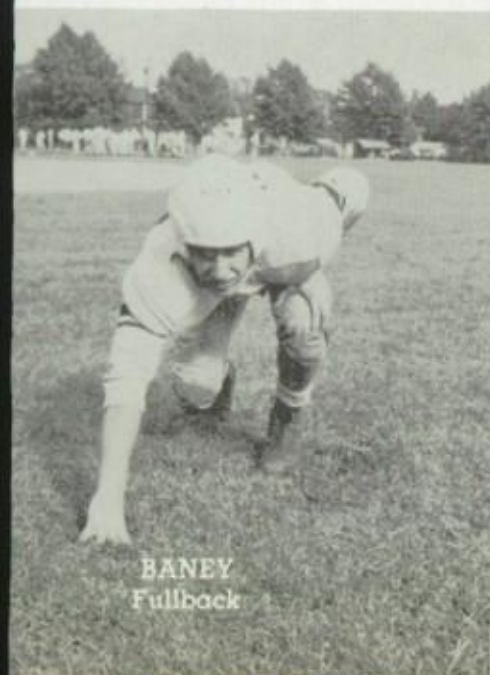

ENOLA . . playing on West Shore's field, the NC gridmen avenged the previous year's defeat by rolling up 21 points. The defense also shone by holding the Panthers scoreless.

CAMP HILL . . weather conditions caused the cancellation of a game which was to have been the last tilt between two old rivals.

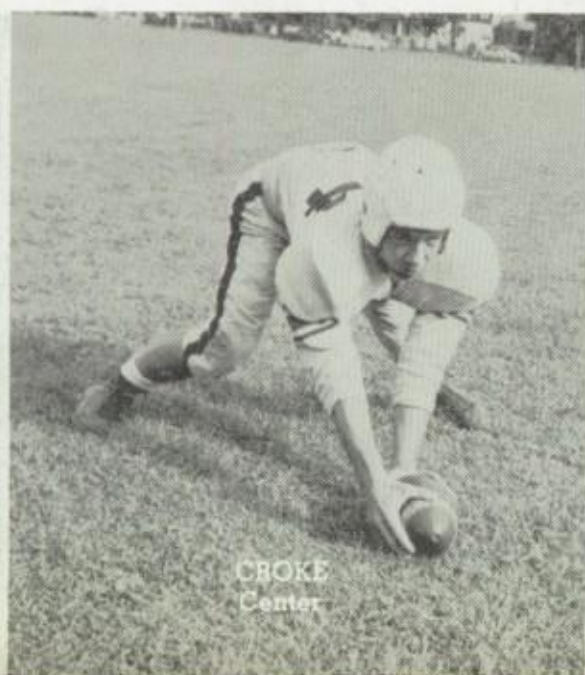

HUMMELSTOWN . . the Bengals cut loose their attack against the Bulldogs and rolled up 26 points. Again the defense successfully protected our goal.

WEST SHORE . . after giving up the first TD, the Tigers came back to take a temporary 7-6 lead. But the Trojans took over and won the Turkey Day classic 25-7.

You cannot fight against Time

THE TIGER SQUAD . . . came through the 1956-57 season with an impressive overall record of 18 wins against 4 losses, the best in school competition in the last 17 years. Many long standing New Cumberland records were also broken by this fighting quintet. FIRST, a new school record for total points in one season was set at 1353. SECOND, a new floor record for the most points scored in one game was established in the 83-69 victory over Susquenita. THIRD, the Bengals set a new high of 61.5 average points per game. High scorers among the seniors in the squad were Hoffmeier — 313 points, Lambert — 263, Vallecorse — 236, Porter — 110. In League competition the Tigers won 15 and dropped 3 finishing second in their league and division.
